

How do you counter a senior manager who is negative day in and day out?

Question: "We have a member of our senior management team who never has anything positive to say about any of our employees. How do you counter someone over you who is negative day in and day out?" —Sandra